“Education is not the learning of Facts but the training of the mind to think.”

– Albert Einstein

With the adoption of NEP 2020, it is now accepted, more than ever, that learning experience for a student needs to provide much more than just the acquisition of rigorous academic content. It must, compulsorily, revolve around fostering critical thinking, communication, collaboration, creativity, and other 21st century skills much needed to thrive in this continuously evolving world. The push to prioritize 21st century skills is typically motivated by the belief that all students should be equipped with the knowledge, skills, work habits, and character traits elemental to their existence as productive global citizen. A failure to adequately prepare students effectively denies them opportunities, with potentially significant consequences for our economy, democracy, and society.

With the declaration of an early summer vacation due to the pandemic situation in the current session, the school designed the Creative and Constructive Collaboration programme-to keep children involved in meaningful activities thus distancing them, even though momentarily, from the largely looming gloom and insecurity. Our plans were structured by our inventive staff and lovingly nurtured by young enthusiasts from the KATHA group, volunteers from the teaching community, zealous B.ElEd trainees and supportive parent partners who actively spearheaded the programme to invigorate and engage the young minds in a myriad of online activities. These online sessions not just ensured a break free spiral learning but also vouched for a continuous emotional connect with friends and facilitators.

The activities for the Primary wing were fashioned to boost confidence and expression with Mindful Words and English Korero while quietly honing their creativity with Artyquettes and Salubrious Delights. Holographic Voyages, Science Quest and Brain-a-thon furthered them on the road to an early scientific temper. Melodious Mingle and Capering Feet kept the tunes and grooves going for the young energetic bodies. The Creative and Constructive Collaboration claimed success for it built upon the cross disciplinary skills to create young potential futuristic individuals with an enhanced subset of skills to believe in. These skills learnt in the most amazingly fun ways will certainly take them a long way and meet the true purpose of Education. Learning is unifying seemingly divergent ideas and data. –

Terry Heick

Learning is the process of acquiring new understanding, knowledge, behaviours, skills, values, attitudes, and preferences. It is an ever-evolving & life-long process. The present times have been full of despair and dullness. Schools have also been running on the virtual platform , but , despite the odds learning never ceased.

To make learning more powerfully engaging , a Virtual Summer Camp : Ebullient Expeditioner was organized to involve the students in a plethora of creative & hands-on activities carefully planned bearing in mind the lucidity of understanding and element of interest in terms of continuity of learning.

Under the Creative and Constructive Collaboration programme, activities like English Conversation , Physical Fitness , Cooking Without Fire , Art and Craft , Mental Maths , Calligraphy Writing , Story Telling, Value Education , Quizzes etc. were conducted. Different outsourced resource persons and staff members were involved in carrying out these activities with their expertise and knowledge. The students were overwhelmingly involved in these activities and attended all the sessions with full zest. They made different products by following the steps taught in the classes and even showcased their best talents during the sessions.

In the summer camp recreation has been at the core of the entire process of learning. Children learn the best when they see , hear , taste , touch , smell , visualize ,think and here, all these well -defined sensorial and mental experiences were evident for the children.

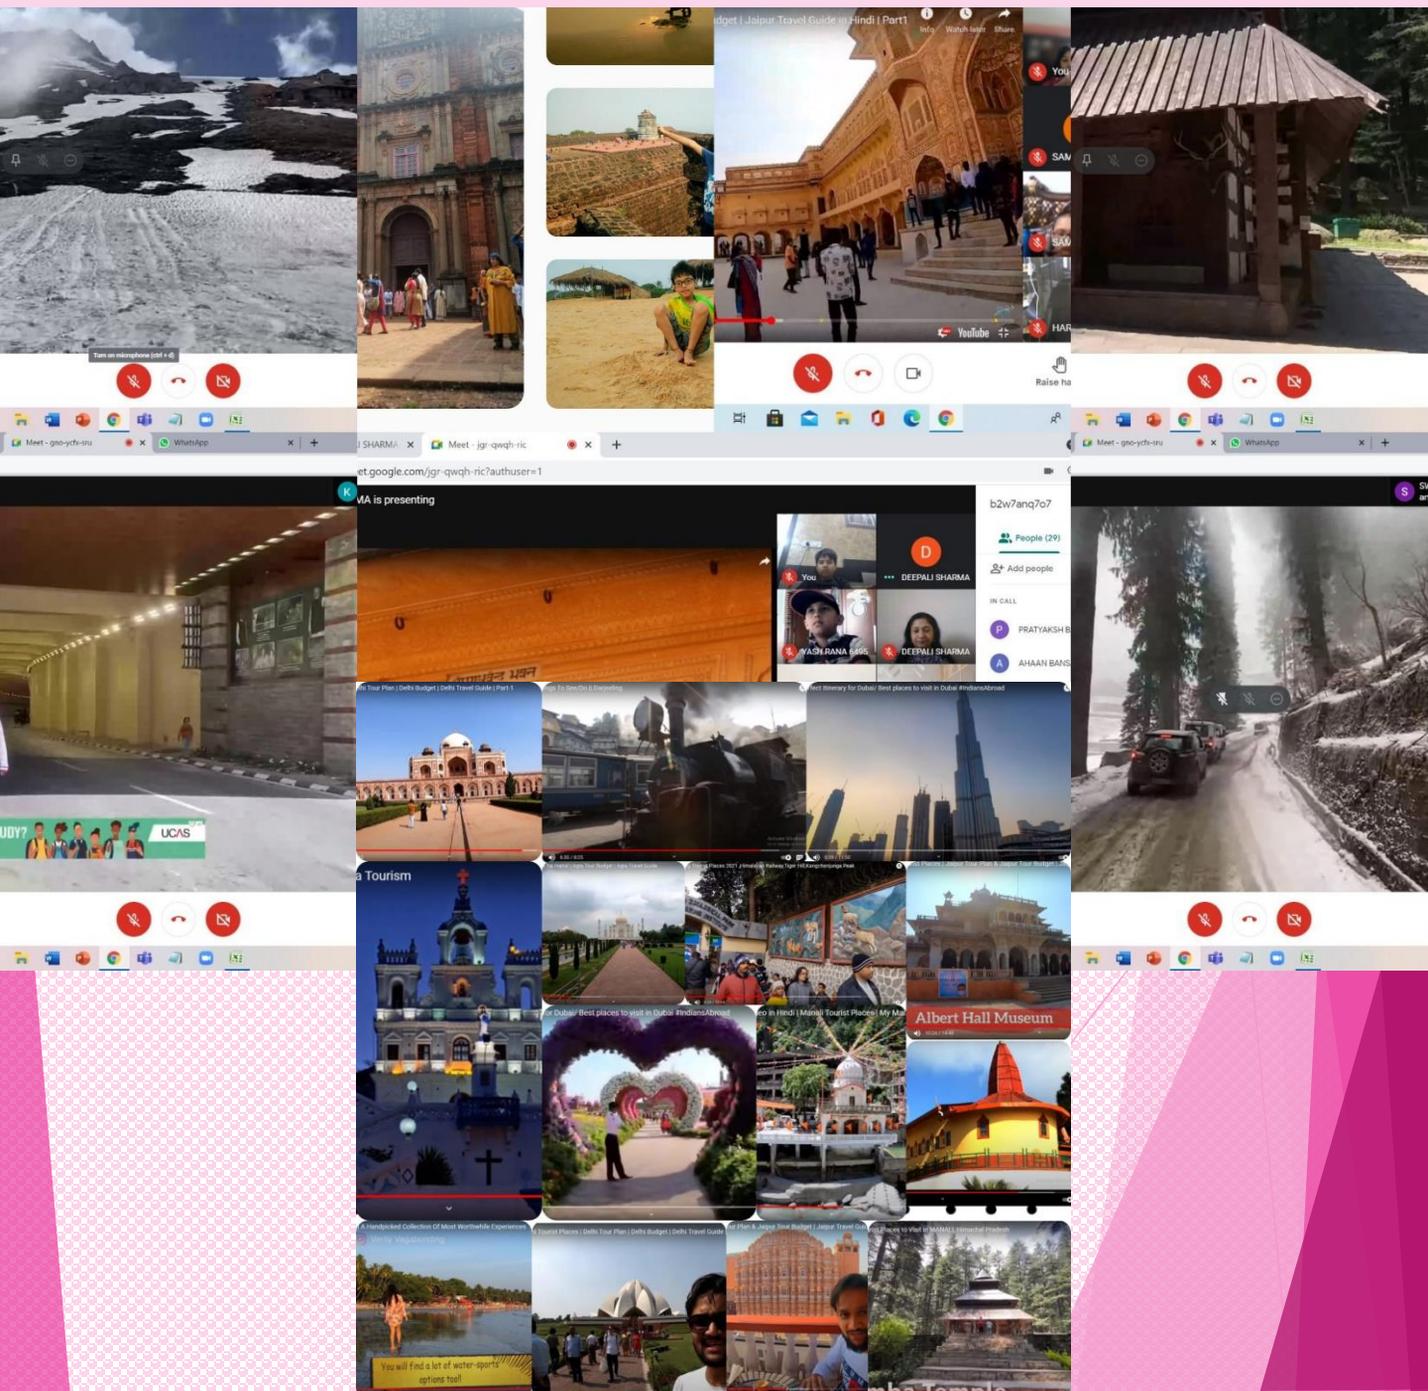

Each learning activity made a different impact on skill development and an emotional vent in the otherwise tough times. This cascade of activities was like Pandora's box for the lovely angelic children !

Summer Camp: BBPS Rohini:

This was a very good initiative by Bal Bharati Public School, Rohini(BBPSRH).

During this time of crisis and uncertainty, BBPS RH has been actively involved with the children by way of this Summer Camp.

The various activities were designed in such a way that the children had great fun in engaging and participating.

Few activities which the children enjoyed and deserves special mention namely- Dance classes ( both traditional and modern), Fitness classes, Science Experiments, Art & Craft.

It has brought visible changes in the mood of the children in this current grim social environment.

This has definitely helped in diverting the children's attention from the negative news and thoughts. This camp has helped them to engage with their friends and teachers and brought in the much needed positivity in them.

The summer camp activity sessions organized by BBPS were absolutely engaging & pleasantly varied in their content. These virtual sessions brought some routine into kids' vacation days along with fun & excitement. They also got to occasionally stay in touch with their class teachers through these classes. Great initiative! And only one concern: would have loved if these continued until 10th June!

As always, thank you for all the support & efforts.
