THE STORY OF ORIGIN

Arithmetic Progression was invented by Johann Carl Friedrich Gauss

One day at school, Gauss's teacher wanted to take a rest and asked the students to sum the integers from 1 to 100 as busy work. To the teacher's annoyance, little Gauss came up to the teacher with the answer, right away. His classmates and teacher were astonished, and Gauss ended up being the only pupil to calculate the correct answer.

Here is how he calculated :

$$a + ar + \dots + ar^{n-2} + ar^{n-1}$$
$$\text{Sum} = \frac{a(1 - r^n)}{1 - r}$$

MENSTRUATION & DROP-OUTS

Girls' health and education form the cornerstone of development and the gateway to full participation as women in the political, economic, and cultural life of a country. Poor menstrual hygiene management has been shown to result in a sense of shame, anxiety, and embarrassment that contributes to absenteeism and poor performance at school. The objectives of this policy are to address the stigma and hygiene around menstruation.

MISSION & VALUES

Mission
To remove the stigma and anxiety surrounding menstruation

Values

- Create a more supportive environment for menstruating students
- Make Hygiene a habit rather than an exercise
- Remove the unnecessary anxiety and shame around periods
- Make all the genders a bit more aware of the same
- Provide everyone with the right resources
